Today your Negotiating Team had its third session of Negotiations with the Company. Discussions continued around the Union's non-economic proposals, revisiting items that were tentatively agreed upon last session and delving back into those left open.

Things went very smoothly throughout the day, with emphasis on reviewing new and current language for clarity of meaning. We are continuing to make progress on Article 8, and expect to finalize it with improvements this session.

Negotiations will continue tomorrow morning with anticipated discussion of Articles 9, 10, and 11.

We are optimistic with the current flow of negotiations and will continue to push hard to provide you with the best Contract possible.
